Journal of Strategic Contracting and Negotiation

Journal of Strategic Contracting and Negotiation, the official journal of the International Association for Contract and Commercial Management (IACCM), is an outlet for cutting edge research and theory about practices that challenge the status quo in strategic contracting and negotiations, and the commercial implementation of business strategy or policy.

A significant gap exists between the knowledge and experiences gathered through scholarly research and theory on strategy, contracting and negotiation, and the everyday practices of leaders, managers and employees who engage in processes and practices of contracting and negotiating as part of their everyday working life. JSCAN actively bridges this scholar-practice divide, which we believe will make it an invaluable resource for our audience of scholars, executives, managers, and employees.

At JSCAN we are looking for papers that address the core aims and objectives of our journal:

- Papers that speak to the complexity of relational contracting
- Papers that provide insights into performance based contracts
- Papers that advance our understanding of contracting under complexity and ambiguity
- Papers that explore the practices of negotiation as an ongoing process (not just something that happened until a contract is signed)

Benefits of publishing in JSCAN include:

- JSCAN is the official journal of the IACCM which has a membership of over 30,000 people across 158 countries
- 8,000 IACCM members have direct online access to JSCAN which means your research will reach business, government and non-government organizations globally
- All JSCAN articles are published with an accompanying one page Executive Summary created by experts within IACCM, which means your research will be easily digestible and accessible to members
- JSCAN is a SAGE journal, which means you are publishing with the world’s largest independent academic publisher, and one of the top 5 leading global publishing houses overall
- You can create video summaries of your research which can be viewed through the SAGE and IACCM websites

We also welcome submissions for special issues, so if you have an idea for a special issue please contact Tyrone S. Pitsis T.Pitsis@leeds.ac.uk
