

Call for Regional Editors

Journal of Composite Materials is seeking applications for Regional Editors, covering the following regions:

- Americas (North America, South America, Central America, Caribbean)
- Middle East and Africa (Middle East, Northern Africa, Southern Africa)
- South Asia, Australasia and the Pacific

Regional Editors will assist in the strategic advancement of the journal's scientific content in line with the journal's mission and goals, and actively seek and solicit contributions to be published in the journal. They shall be responsible for the selection and revision of articles through peer review in accordance with SAGE policies, processes and operational aspects, including the articles' technical content, form, conciseness, clarity and accuracy.

Journal of Composite Materials is the leading peer-reviewed journal of advanced composite materials technology. Issues of the Journal of Composite Materials collectively provide an encyclopaedic resource on all aspects of composite materials science and engineering.

Please submit your applications to Kirstyn Malcolm at Kirstyn.Malcolm@sagepub.co.uk. Be sure to include current curriculum vita as well as a brief personal statement. Please direct any questions to Kirstyn.
