

Call for Editor: World Futures Review Deadline May 13, 2022

SAGE announces the search for a new Editor of our journal, World Futures Review. This peer-reviewed, quarterly publication has been serving as the top forum for all who are professionally involved in exploring trends and alternatives for society since its establishment in 2009. We are currently accepting editor or co-editor applications for a term beginning with the 2023 volume year.

World Futures Review has provided researchers and practitioners with the most up-to-date, comprehensive and important research in this growing field. It offers valuable insight on the theoretical, research, and practical issues confronting those interested in futures research. Editor will be expected to work with SAGE to ensure high quality peer review and timely and accurate delivery of manuscripts for publication.

The Editor will be responsible for soliciting, reviewing, and making final decisions on submissions to the journal, and will manage all aspects of the publication and review process using the ScholarOne online submission and review platform. Editor is expected to maintain timely and effective communication, advance journal performance, and work towards upholding World Futures Review's high-quality standard.

Applicants should have a distinguished scholarly record in one or more of the following fields: futures studies, strategic foresight, and/or political science. Applicants should also have experience in academic leadership roles, possess strong organizational and management skills, the ability to work well with others, and a commitment to SAGE's mission: believing passionately that engaged scholarship lies at the heart of any healthy society and that education is intrinsically valuable. This means playing a creative role in society by disseminating teaching and research on a global scale, the cornerstones of which are good, long-term relationships, a focus on our markets, and an ability to combine quality and innovation.

SAGE provides World Futures Studies with editorial support, but the institution that hosts the journal will also be expected to provide support for the editor and the journal office. Your application should indicate the expected level of institutional support, which might come in the form of additional faculty release time, travel funds, summer salary, office space, utilities, the use of computers and other office equipment, support for a full time Managing Editor, student workers, and/or other basic expenses.

We will accept Editor or Co-Editor applications. Applicants should send a letter of application which includes their vision for the future of the journal and a description of their qualifications for the editorship. Applicants should also include copies of their CV and documentation indicating prospective institutional support. Applications, nominations, and requests for additional information should be sent electronically to Isabella Austin, Publishing Editor of WFR, at Isabella.Austin@sagepub.com. Please put "WFR Editor Application" in the subject line of your email.

